

Z-lever handle, large by Eric Parry

izé

EPL02

Architect-designed handle with haptic surprise

Leading architect Eric Parry designed the Z-lever range for izé as a means of absorbing all the elements of ironmongery – the horizontal handle and vertical lock plate – in a single, sculptural element.

Deceptively simple, the Z –levers are pleasing to touch and use, offering what Parry describes as a ‘haptic surprise’. Like all Izé luxury handles, it is available in all the Izé finishes.

Length : 130 mm

Projection : 70 mm

Backplate width : 35 mm

Finish : Available in all izé finishes
